

Tomorrow's workplace doesn't work by today's rules.

Workplaces are currently governed by a hodgepodge of federal, state and local laws that dictate specific paid employee leave and flexible work policies. These mandates limit the innovation and flexibility a 21st Century workplace demands for both employers and employees.

There's a better way: A 21st Century workflex policy.

