

2017 Tax Reform House and Senate Comparison

Provisions:	H.R. 1, Tax Cuts and Jobs Act	Senate Proposal, Tax Cuts and Jobs Act	Conference Committee Report
Employer-Provided Retirement Plans
SHRM Position: SHRM believes that a bedrock of sound fiscal and savings policy is ensuring that every American employee is given the opportunity to save and plan for retirement and protect his or her family’s health. Public-policy efforts at both the federal and state levels should focus on expansion of and access to employer-sponsored benefits, including retirement accounts, health care and employer-provided education assistance. Instead of taxing these valuable benefits, lawmakers should continue to allow employers the ability to provide tax-free benefits to their workforces.
Defined Contribution Retirement Plans	Preserves the current tax treatment of employer-provided plans
Defined Contribution Retirement Plan Loans	Changes repayment time frame on retirement plan loans from 60 days after separation of employment to the date of IRS tax filing for the taxable year. Effective for plan years after 2017.	Changes repayment options for 457 and 403(b) plans to allow rollovers or loan repayment to take place by the date of IRS tax filing for the taxable year. Effective for tax years after 2017.	Adopts the Senate version to allow an extended payment period for retirement plan loans for qualified retirement plans, 403(b) or 457(b) plans. Effective for tax years after 2017.

The taxable rate will be equal to the corporate rate of 21 percent. Effective for tax years after 2017.
Employer-Provided Benefits
SHRM Position: SHRM believes that a comprehensive and flexible benefits package is an essential tool in recruiting and retaining talented employees. Employers utilize a wide variety of benefits that fit the needs of their employees and federal policies should not seek to impair an employer's ability to offer such benefits. Specifically related to employer-provided education assistance (Section 127) and qualified tuition reduction programs (Section 117), SHRM strongly supports maintaining and strengthening these provisions for associate, undergraduate and graduate degrees. Additionally, SHRM supports efforts that not only preserve, but expand the monetary limits and scope of Section 127 benefits.
Education Assistance (Section 127)	Eliminates the tax exclusion that allows employers to provide up to $5,250 of education assistance per year tax-free to their employees at the undergraduate, graduate or certificate level. Benefit would be taxable to both the employer and the employee. Effective for tax years after 2017.	Proposal does not contain this provision.	Adopts the Senate version. Preserves the current tax treatment of Section 127.
Tuition Reduction (Section 117)	Eliminates the tax exclusion for educational assistance for employees, their spouse or	Proposal does not contain this provision.	Adopts the Senate version. Preserves the current tax treatment of Section 117.
